BOARD OF REGENTS

Educational Planning & Policy Committee

October 11, 2007

A meeting of the Educational Planning and Policy Committee of the Board of Regents was held on Thursday, October 11, 2007 at 3:00 p.m. in the Recital Hall, HFA at the University of Minnesota Morris.

Regents present: David Larson, presiding; Anthony Baraga, Maureen Cisneros, Linda Cohen, and Patricia Simmons.

Staff present: Chancellors Charles Casey, Stephen Lehmkuhle, and Jacqueline Johnson; Senior Vice President & Provost Thomas Sullivan; Senior Vice President Robert Jones; and Executive Director Ann Cieslak.

Student Representatives present: Meghan Keil and Nathan Olson.

CAMPUS REPORTS & STRATEGIC POSITIONING UPDATE: CROOKSTON & MORRIS

Senior Vice President & Provost Sullivan introduced Chancellors Charles Casey and Jacqueline Johnson, who led the discussion of strategic positioning at the University of Minnesota Crookston (UMC) and the University of Minnesota Morris (UMM) as detailed in materials in the docket and on file in the Board Office. Casey stated that UMC’s mission is to deliver applied, career-oriented learning programs that combine theory, practice, and experimentation in a technologically rich environment. Among UMC’s challenges are limited program offerings; the development of effective strategies for recruiting faculty; improving communication between campus administration and faculty; and changing demographics that are expected to reduce the number of Minnesota high school graduates.

Casey reported substantial progress in the recruitment of new students, with enrollment of degree-seeking students up nearly nine percent over Fall 2006. Strategic investments also have been made to expand academic offerings; improve academic advising and assistance; enhance classroom facilities; support undergraduate research; and foster the development of a new honors program. He also noted that efforts are under way to expand UMC’s educational presence in the area through additional online learning opportunities and a commitment to focus the College in the High School Program on high schools within the region.

In response to questions from the committee, Casey acknowledged that UMC is not satisfied with current retention and graduation rates. He cited limited program offerings, a rising number of transfer students, and proximity to more comprehensive institutions as the principal reasons for UMC’s low retention rate, but he is optimistic that new initiatives, such as enhancements to the first-year experience and expanded program offerings, will help UMC progress toward established goals. Sullivan added that there has been a remarkable increase in UMC’s freshman retention rate, currently at 70 percent, a ten-year high.
Johnson indicated that UMM's mission calls for the creation of a learning environment in which students are prepared to be interculturally competent, civically engaged global citizens and effective environmental stewards. A look at UMM's profile indicates that it has a diverse student population and that it attracts exceptional, involved, students who express more satisfaction with their overall educational experience than any other students in the University system (materials in the docket and on file in the Board Office).

Johnson cited a number of challenges facing UMM, including enrollment levels, a changing mix of students, outdated facilities, geographic isolation, a societal bias against a liberal arts education, and intense competition from peer institutions. In order to address these challenges, a number of initiatives have been launched, including:

- a stepped-up marketing and branding campaign;
- integration of environmental initiatives into academic programs;
- enhanced opportunities for undergraduate research and internships;
- articulation of the community-based renewable energy platform;
- a focus on the first-year experience;
- more competitive need- and merit-based scholarships;
- administrative reorganizations in support of academic excellence; and
- an update of the campus master plan.

In response to questions from the committee, Johnson noted that the Morris campus has established a goal to gradually increase the number and diversity of international students on campus. She also explained that UMM has been recognized nationally as a particularly good place for women students because of such programs as the Women’s Commission and the Women’s Resource Center.

In response to questions from Regent Larson, Johnson agreed that UMM’s primary competition is private liberal arts schools, but that graduation rates on the Morris campus are below those of such institutions as Gustavus Adolphus and St. Olaf, also located in small towns. The higher proportion of first generation students at UMM may account for some of the difference, but she observed that the campus also has realized the importance of conveying to entering students early on the expectation that they will finish, will finish at UMM, and will finish in four years. Larson encouraged Johnson to pursue what differences there may be since the cost per student graduating is an important metric.

Sullivan remarked that the trend line on UMM’s academic profile is very good. For incoming freshmen, average ACT scores are the highest in seven years and the share in the top 25% of their high school graduating class is substantially higher than last year. These data suggest that it is appropriate to expect UMM’s retention and graduation rates to increase.

CONSENT REPORT

Senior Vice President & Provost Sullivan stated that there were no items on the Consent Report this month.

INFORMATION ITEMS

Senior Vice President & Provost Sullivan directed the committee's attention to the Information Items, which included a profile of the class of 2011 and enrollment figures for Fall 2007, as detailed in materials distributed at the meeting and on file in the Board Office. He highlighted the following:
• Total fall enrollment: 66,100.
• Twin Cities campus (UMTC) freshmen enrollees: 5,280, a planned reduction from recent years.
• UMTC High school rank: A record 44% of incoming freshmen in the top 10% of their high school graduating class and a record 84% in the top 25%.
• UMTC Average ACT score: A record 25.9 for incoming freshmen.
• UMTC National Merit Scholars: 96 in freshman class (up from 38 five years ago).
• Diversity of incoming UMTC freshmen: More than 20% are students of color.
• UMD: Number of applicants, ACT scores, and average high school rank increased this year.

The meeting adjourned at 4:05 p.m.

COLLECTIVE BARGAINING AGREEMENT WITH TEAMSTERS LOCAL 320

Vice President Carrier invited Patti Dion, Director of Employee & Labor Relations, to present the collective bargaining agreement between the University and the Teamsters Local 320 on behalf of service, maintenance, and labor employees, as detailed in the docket materials. Dion noted that negotiations on this contract began in June 2007, and concluded with a tentative agreement on August 31, 2007. The Union's contract ratification process was completed on September 21, 2007.

The committee voted unanimously to recommend approval of the collective bargaining agreement with Teamsters Local 320.

SUMMARY OF STUDENT METRICS FROM THE 2007-08 UNIVERSITY PLAN, PERFORMANCE & ACCOUNTABILITY REPORT

Vice President Carrier invited Craig Swan, Vice Provost and Dean of Undergraduate Education, to present a summary of student metrics from the 2007-08 University Plan, Performance & Accountability Report, as detailed in the docket materials and on file in the Board office. Swan reviewed highlights and changes over the last ten years and highlighted the following:

- The Twin Cities campus is becoming more residential as demonstrated by 81 percent of freshman living on campus.
- The number of students participating in student organizations or activities increased from 50 to 74 percent.
- The overall University student experience has improved to 91 percent satisfaction.
- Classroom quality rated as "excellent" or "very good" increased by 40 percent.
Swan discussed a number of plans to improve the student experience at the University, including: graduation planning beginning in a student’s first year with enhanced conversations and interaction between faculty and students; a new six day “Welcome Week” beginning in Fall 2008 with activities specifically geared to new students; and enhancement of the student Gold Pass program that will simplify posting resumes and job opportunities on the University’s website.

In response to questions from the committee, Swan clarified that students from Minnesota represent 75 percent of the recent increase in applications. He recommended that University graduation rates be closely monitored and strategies developed to support student graduation goals.

MORRIS STUDENT EXPERIENCE: EXCEPTIONAL STUDENTS, ENGAGED LEARNING

Vice President Carrier invited Sandra Olson-Loy, Vice Chancellor for Student Affairs, to present information on the University of Minnesota Morris (UMM) student experience, as included in the docket materials. Olson-Loy highlighted the following during her presentation:

• UMM classification as a Carnegie Baccalaureate College/Arts & Sciences institution gives the campus a distinctive national niche, as only one in ten universities in the category are public institutions.

• UMM students are academically well-prepared, highly diverse, and often first generation students. They come from rural areas and have significant financial need.

• UMM leads the University system in measuring engaged learning through student experience and graduate surveys on student satisfaction and other national and benchmarking measures.

Olson-Loy outlined a number of challenges UMM has identified: 1) increasing enrollment and graduation rates; 2) enhancing on-campus student housing and other amenities; 3) fostering intercultural competence; and 4) linking the liberal arts to life’s work and career.

UMM student Nathan Giles cited small classes, lower tuition, numerous leadership opportunities, and strong academic programs as important benefits for UMM students.

In response to questions from the committee, Olson-Loy stated UMM has the capacity to serve 2,100 students. Currently 1,700 students are enrolled but increasing the number of students may be difficult due to shifting demographics in east-central Minnesota.

CONSENT REPORT

Vice President Carrier presented the Consent Report, as detailed in the docket materials, including the following item:

• Amendments to Article IV, Sections 2c-f, Membership, of the University Senate Constitution.

The committee voted unanimously to recommend approval of the consent report.

2008 STATE CAPITAL REQUEST

President Bruininks presented the 2008 State Capital Request (Request) as detailed in the docket and associated materials distributed at the meeting. The $308 million Request is built upon a combination of funds appropriated by the State of Minnesota ($238.7 million) and resources committed by the University of Minnesota ($69.3 million). The Request was reviewed by the Board of Regents at its June 2007 meeting and subsequently adjusted to reflect program changes, inflation, and further project development.

Bruininks reported that the development of the Request was guided by the following principles:
• Align projects with strategic priorities to advance academic excellence;
• Protect past investments through the preservation and renewal of historic structures;
• Seize unique opportunities to create state-of-the-art and sustainable facilities;
• Address pressing infrastructure needs;
• Ensure the institution’s financial position by staying within operating and debt capacity limits; and
• Capitalize on fundraising potential.

Bruininks stated that this Request is the largest ever presented to the State of Minnesota. He summarized the projects included in the Request and explained how each project supports the University's institutional, educational, and strategic priorities. He emphasized the importance of the investments in connecting the resources of the University to meeting the needs of Minnesota communities and regions. Bruininks noted that the $100 million request for Higher Education Asset Preservation and Replacement funds will be used system-wide to maximize and extend the life of the University's existing physical systems and infrastructure.

A motion was made and seconded to approve the Resolution Related to the 2008 State Capital Request.

In response to a question from Regent Frobenius, Senior Vice President Cerra explained that the $20 million request for the Critical Research and Learning Center funding will create the infrastructure to serve a new clinic and provide redundancy to the existing hospital and portions of the Academic Health Center. He added that the clinic is an essential addition to the clinical sciences mission, as it would become the major training site for the next generation of physicians, nurses, and pharmacists. Vice President Pfutzenreuter clarified that the State of Minnesota only provides bonding to a capital project if it is publicly owned and serves a public purpose. The balance of funding for the clinic building will be determined with other affected partners, such as University of Minnesota Physicians and Fairview Health Services.

Board members commended the administration on the usefulness of the video presentation in demonstrating the importance of the Request to advancing the mission and values of the University.

The Board of Regents voted unanimously to approve the resolution as follows:
